The Cheyenne River Chamber of Commerce welcomes you to the Cheyenne River Indian Reservation—the Good River Reservation or Wakpa Wasté Oyanke. Here you'll have the opportunity to enjoy local hospitality, western history, and Lakota culture.

There are 27 communities throughout the Reservation, but four towns serve the greater population. Isabel, Dupree, Eagle Butte and Timber Lake provide products, recreational opportunities, medical and educational facilities, churches, financial services, lodging and dining establishments.

Shop Cheyenne River! While you're in our communities, be sure to shop in our local businesses, eat in our restaurants and stay in our motels. Also, attend a local event to learn more about the history and culture of the area.

Dupree

The community of Dupree is located on the west end of the Cheyenne River Reservation, along Hwy. 212. This western community plays host to numerous events each year, including the regional high school rodeo held the 2nd weekend in June, and the Pioneer Days Celebration held the second weekend in July.

Eagle Butte

Eagle Butte serves as the headquarters for the Cheyenne River Sioux Tribe. Every year, the Tribe's annual Fair and Powwow is held in Eagle Butte over Labor Day weekend, in September. Located along Hwy 212, in the central portion of the Reservation, the community boasts a variety of products and services for area consumers.

Isabel

Founded in 1911, the town of Isabel is located in the northern portion of the Cheyenne River Reservation. In the early years, the railroad played an important role in the establishment of the community. Today, agriculture is the leading industry. Each year, the town hosts a celebration and rodeo the first weekend in August.

Timber Lake

Timber Lake was founded in 1910 when the Cheyenne River Sioux Reservation was opened to homesteading. Livestock and grain provide the base for the local economy, which also includes small manufacturing, recreation and home-based businesses. Timber Lake's Days of 1910 Celebration is held annually the last full weekend in July.

Travel Tips:

Few businesses on the Cheyenne River Reservation are open 24 hours. However, credit cards are accepted at most gas stations. Minimal cell service is available throughout the area.

Two nationally recognized drives are found on the Reservation; the Native American Scenic Byway and the Lewis and Clark Trail. Both routes provide a scenic and historic tour for visitors.

BIA (Bureau of Indian Affairs) roads are mostly gravel and are in good condition for traveling with a four wheel drive vehicle.

The Cheyenne River Reservation is located within the Mountain Time Zone.
